The If If's first single, THE CAMPAIGN FOR REAL BREAD : A rotation Fbi 94.5FM "AWESOME!" [Popfrenzy]

Glacially dipped ...crunchy beats...sophistication and torch light majesty... [Losing Today]

"Like an Aussie Beta Band with a touch of the kind of playful sound of acts like Department of Eagles, Errors and Tunng. Very promising." [Pure Groove, UK]

"Sydney's quirky electronic-pop outfit Ollo focus much more on pop, with more vocals and catchy melodies, [Chloe Sasson, Metro Sydney Morning Herald]

"..Combining the ambient sensibilities of Matthew Herbert and the lyrical reach of The Triffids, ollo return with a stunning and anthemic electronic workout with a fantastic cover of fun boy three's "the lunatics have taking over the asylum" on the flip... ESSENTIAL STUFF..." [Rough Trade, London]

intimate and affecting songs [Matthew Levinson, Cyclic Defrost]

Touted as one of Australia's hottest electronic artists to watch out for when their critically acclaimed debut album Sleeper was released in 2002. The If If is a very accomplished album and one difficult not to enjoy..." [Aarom Wilson, Perth Drum Media]

"...a stream of cut-up samples and DJ Shadow/jazz inspired drumming..." [The Brag]
