

12 Apostles - Press Release #19

New release

ROC ~ SINK A BITE INTO LIFE (remix by Dsico - that no talent hack)

Out 1st August 06
1 sided 12" [AP07]

Aussie electrobrat Dsico's "Punk As Pussy EP" (12 Apostles) is still melting dancefloors, including recently - so we hear - courtesy of Bjork at The Stud in San Francisco.

Other fans of Dsico's sluttish pop reductions include Mark Moore (S-Express), Tom Middleton, Jonny Slut (Ghetto), Disastronaut (Audiosushi) and a whole host of others.

Dsico returns to 12 Apostles stripping ROC's lavish pop track (from their new album "Night Fold Around Me") to an ice cool midnight prowling through the NYC backstreets. Karen Sheridan's dreamy vocal builds to a euphoric chorus, backed by Dsico's signature minimalist drum 'n' synth backbeat. "Sink A Bite Into Life" is an irresistible fusion of genius groove and bittersweet pop magic.

The non-playing side features a beautifully crafted knife and fork sticker design from Berlin-based graphic collective Bunsen Industries and the record is available from all good record stores and the 12 Apostles web site (www.12-apostles.com).
